

VIRGINIA ACTS OF ASSEMBLY -- 2001 SESSION

CHAPTER 263

An Act to amend the Code of Virginia by adding sections numbered 2.1-27.2:01 and 22.1-17.4, relating to the Virginia World War II Veterans Appreciation Week and certain honorary high school diplomas.

[S 1210]

Approved March 15, 2001

Whereas, between 1939 and 1945, World War II — the most devastating war to occur on earth — raged across Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Pacific islands; and

Whereas, more than 16 million young Americans, many of whom left high school as mere teenagers to take up this cause, served in the United States Armed Forces during this period, defending their country and humanity; and

Whereas, the economic and personal loss suffered by these young Americans can only be imagined, with lives interrupted and inexorably altered; and

Whereas, upon returning, many of these young Americans were unable to resume their schooling because of economic and other personal reasons; and

Whereas, these young Americans reentered society and made significant contributions to our country through their hard work as civilians, while gaining substantial knowledge and skills through work; and

Whereas, in the golden years of their lives, the veterans of World War II have earned and do deserve our esteem and gratitude and our acknowledgement that without their sacrifices, our lives would not be the same as they are today; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:
