

Dr. Staples addresses accountability and achievement gaps (:16)

I think achievement gaps throughout our data continue to be a focus of concern for all of us. And that's one of the reasons the board is looking at revising the accountability system. Our current system doesn't automatically hold every school accountable to close those gaps.