1. Data

How do we facilitate data discussions to target students with disabilities?

2. Structure

How do we help schools to establish effective structures that support students with disabilities and monitor their progress?

3. Strategies

How do we help schools identify strategies for students with disabilities based on the data?

Learning Targets

Explore tools and resources to help schools identify:

Structure

Strategies

to support students with disabilities.

Data

- What data is available?
- What does it tell you?
- Is additional data needed?

Sample Discussion

- SOL Scores by School and Strand (Category)
- Individual Student Scores by Strand
- Data Reflection Questions (refer to sample)
- Test Blueprints
- Released Tests

❖ Data must reflect results for SWD only

Structures

- What structures are already in place to support SWD?
- Are additional structures needed?
- Are different structures needed?

The image shows a sample 'Special Education Intervention Plan' form. It includes fields for 'New Student', 'Target Area ID', 'Student', 'Implementation Date', and 'Review Date'. The main body of the form is a table with columns for 'Goal', 'Intervention Strategies', 'Progress Monitoring', and 'Program Evaluation'. The table contains detailed text and checkboxes for tracking progress and evaluation.

Sample Discussion

- Current Interventions and Staff Assignments
- Appropriateness of current available interventions
- Master Schedule
- Intervention Planning Tool (refer to sample)

Strategies

- Which accommodations are appropriate?
- Are modifications required?
- What instructional practices support identified needs?

Sample Discussion

- Identified goals
- List of available strategies (currently in use)
- Handouts: Accommodations and Adaptations: Learning Problems in Reading and Math, Special Education at a Glance, Curriculum Adaptations
- Curriculum Framework
